

Applying PMBOK and RBM in Project Management

4 days interactive training workshop | SDPI, Islamabad | Rs. 20,000 pp investment
25-28 October 2011. Registration deadline is October 18, 2011 | 20% discount available

A major part of time and cost over-runs is attributed to delays encountered in project implementation. Good project management ensures effective implementation and timely completion of projects. It enables managers to have optimal use of human and material resources. Current project management techniques require a departure from traditional approach as it involves improved systems methodology on project selection, planning, implementation, controlling, evaluation and termination. This workshop focuses on helping the participants learn two distinct but equally effective project management approaches, Results Based Management (RBM) and Project Management Body of Knowledge. (PMBOK)

PMBOK Trainer - Sauood [PMP]

Mr. Muhammad Sauood ur Rauf is certified Project Management Professional. He has rich experience of working with international and national organizations in both the public and private sectors. His area of specialization is information technology with a focus on project management. Sauood is an experienced trainer, having designed and conducted numerous trainings and consultancy projects for national and international organizations like UNDP, ADB, Mobilink, Telenor, PTC, Pakistan Army and other government organizations.

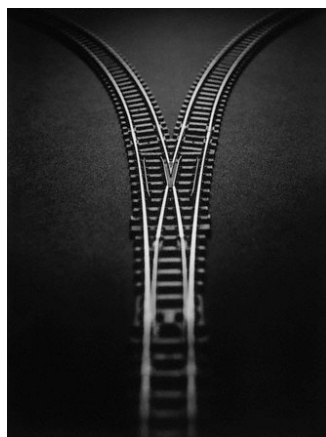

PMBOK Learning Objectives
